Strata Partners advises Intelligent Reach on its sale to Searchspring

Strata Partners is delighted to announce that acted as exclusive corporate finance adviser to Intelligent Reach, the UK based full-service data feed management software provider on its sale to Searchspring, the US based provider of ecommerce site search, product merchandising, and ecommerce personalisation.

Intelligent Reach was backed by SEP, the technology focused growth investor. Its software empowers mid-market and enterprise merchants by curating their product data to optimise for distribution across more than 1,500 advertising channels, shopping sites, and marketplaces by managing product data effectively, integrating it across platforms, and syncing orders with existing systems to streamline operations. The biggest consumer-facing channels in the world, including Google Shopping, Amazon, eBay, Facebook, Instagram use Intelligent Reach. The platform reduces the time it takes a brand, retailer, or agency to access new channels to days rather than weeks. It streamlines operations, accelerates entry to new markets, manages the complexity of marketplaces and social commerce, and increases return on ad spend (ROAS).

From its headquarters in San Antonio, Texas, Searchspring provides a global ecommerce search and personalisation platform that has been providing merchants with powerful, unique, proven product discovery and shopping experiences since 2007. Purpose-built for ecommerce, merchants use the Searchspring platform to facilitate better product discovery through semantic site search capabilities and flexible product merchandising, which includes business rules as well as AI-driven campaigns. The Searchspring personalisation suite further helps to get the right product to the right shopper at the right time.

Robin Martin, CEO of Intelligent Reach commented, "we had a great team on this throughout the process - in every facet, so thank you all for your contributions"
